Town Has First Serious Experience With Fire Fiend---Location Given For New School Building.

Through the liberality of Hon. Horace Hawes, the school trustees were enabled to settle the much mooted question of a location for school grounds and proceed with the erection of a sadly needed new school building without waiting for the settlement of the question of the purchase of the old school lot by the Railroad Company. At a general school meeting held on the evening of November 20th, at the call of the trustees, Mr. Hawes offered to purchase at a cost of $1000 a large lot in what was known as the Diller Addition and donate it to the district for school purposes, the only provision being that it should be accepted for the purpose indicated and that the people should proceed without delay to erect a proper building. The offer was accepted, and within two days Mr. Hawes had made the purnhase and prepared his deed to the trustees. At the meeting it had been decided to raise the money for the building by voluntary subsctiptions, and the work of securing the money, which was estimated at $3000, was immediately set about with gratifying results. Within a short time pledges of the required amount had been secured, and on January 15th the contract for the construction of the building was let to J. J. Dorland for $2830. This sum didnot include the cost of the painting and plastering, which it was estimated would amount to about $400. The new building was to occupy a ground space of 62x32 feet, with wings for separate entrances for the boys and girls, and was to be two stories in height. The upper story was not to be finished at that time, as it was deemed that the attendance of pupils could be accommodated on the first floor. It was intended to have the new school house ready for the reception of pupils by the 1st of May.

Early on the morning of April 7th, 1864, the first fire of particular consequence to be recorded in Redwood City occurred, resulting in the complete destruction of the American Hotel, the pioneer hostelry of the town. So rapid in fact was the progress of the flames that not only the hotel and its furniture was consumed, but the occupants lost nearly all their belongings. some barely escaping with their lives and even the most fortunate having time to secure but a small portion of their clothing. Just what was the cause of the fire was never known, the fire having gained considerable headway before being discovered. The first alarm was given shortly after 4 o'clock in the morning by the barking of a dog which had been allowed to sleep in the barroom. The cries of the dog awakened a steward, who slept in an adjoining room. When the steward opened the door to ascertain the cause of the canine disturbance he found the rear portion of the building to be well in the power of the flames, which were burning fiercely. Realizing the danger to the occupants of the place, who were all asleep at that hour, the steward made all haste to rouse the endangered people, before attempting to raise a call for the fire company. Thanks to this prompt action, no lives were lost, although none of the occupants were given time to dress, and many were compelled to escape through windows, leaving behind not only clothing but jewelry and other valuables. There were a number of women occupying rooms in the upper story and all of these were compelled to make their escape in their night robes, and at this were compelled to jump from the windows, as the stairway was cut off by fire and smoke before the alarm could be given. Mary Zopfi, the chambermaid of the house, had a rather thrilling experience. She jumped from one of the upper windows into a willow tree which stood beside the house, and as she grasped one of the limbs the weight caused it to rebound and she was thrown back into the house through the parlor window, injuring her so severely that she was unable to make farther efforts at escape without assistance. Although the fire company was on the ground promptly after the alarm was given, they were unable to do more than stop the spread of the fire to adjoining buildings, some of which were in great danger from the heat of the burning structure. One serious handicap to the efforts of the firemen was the fact that at the time of the fire the tide was out and it was impossible to get a supply of water, The only available water was the contents of a small cistern on the premises of George Wentworth, located within a short distance of the danger spot. This supplied water sufficient to protect the adjoining buildings and thus prevent an excessive conflagration. The loss to the proprietor of the hotel was estimated at something over $5,000, covered partially by an insurance of $3,000.

That the old jail did not repeat its reputation for holding criminals only so long as tney found it to their inclination to remain within its flimsey walls was not repeated about this time was due to the vigilence of Sheriff Keith. Three men confined in the place awaiting trial on charges of burglary and grand larceny, took it into their heads on April 11th that they had remained in confinement long enough, and proceeded to imitate a number of their predecessors. Securing a small piece of wire they dug through the walls of their cell, and with a small piece of wood were prying their way through the outer wall when they were pounced upon by the Sheriff and a posse which he had summonsed when he had discovered their designs. The prisoners were placed in irons and compelled to return in disfust to their old quarters.

With the increased transportation facilities afforded by the completion of the railroad, this city began to achieve considerable reputation as a resort for outing and picnic parties, many of which were held here during the summer. The first of these to be arranged for was the celebration of the forty-fifth anniversary of the institution of the Odd Fellows. This celebration consisted of a joint picnic by the lodges of San Francisco and the Bay District. This was followed a little later ba a big picnic and celebration by the German societies of San Francisco, and then by an outing of the schools of San Jose.

While work on the buildiug of the new church was progressing in good shape, it was found that the cost of the build ing would be rather more than had been expected and that some of the promised subscriptions were liable to fail to materialize, and it was feared that the committee in charge were liable to fall short of funds. To aid in the work a number of the ladies of the town who had formed a society called the Social Circle, determined to give an entertainment in aid of the fund, The entertainment consisted of a fair, at which there was a sale of fancy articles, followed by a literary entertainment. The affair was a decided success, netting something over $500. A short time after the giving of this entertainment, the church society received another valuable donation, in the shape of a bell for its use. This bell, which weighed 600 pounds, all that it was considered could be safely suspended in the belfry, was purchased in New York.

That the people of this city were ready to support their minister in a free handed manner is shown by a report of a surprise party given the Rev. G. W. Finney on the evening of May 24th. The visitors brought with them household needs of all kinds, including groceries, flour, eggs, live poultry and even a family cow. Some who could not handily find any article which they considered the Reverened gentleman and his family might need, simply left their compliments in the shape of cash.

Death of Old Pescadero Resident.

John Montevaldo, for many years an esteemed resident of Pescadero, passed away at his home in San Jose last Saturday. Mr. Montevaldo had been in failing health for several months, during which time he was tenderly cared for by his devoted wife. His death has caused sincere regret among a host of friends and associates by whom he was looked upon as an upright citizen. The deceased was a native of Italy, aged 74 years, and besides his wife leaves a son and daughter, and a brother Frank Montevaldo, residing at Pescadero. He was a brother-in-law of Joseph Debenedetti of Halfmoon Bay. Mr. Montevaldo was the owner of vaulable property in this country. He was buried at Santa Clara Tuesday.

Charged With Stealing Water.

The Bear Gulch Water Company has caused the arrest of Manuel Vargas for stealing water from the mains and stand pipes of the company, for the purpose of supplying over 150 head of stock. Vargas is conducting a dairy on the Kentfield place near this city. He is accused of attaching to the water tank on the county road by which he syphoned the water to the troughs nearby. The law is very severe for taking water in this way, the punishmentt being fine or imprisonment in the county jail.

EXTENSIVE STREET IMPROVEMENT PLANS

Council Adopts Resolutions Looking to Extensive System of Street Paving Work.

TO START WITH DINGEE PARK

Want Another Bridge Over Redwood Creek---Ordinance for Removal of Garbage to be Enforced.

Two matters of much importance to the public welfare of this city occupied the attention of the Council, to the exclusion of all but the most urgent business, at an unusually lengthy session Monday evening. Chief of these was the actual commencing of proceedings which mark the beginning of an extentensive system of street improvements for the coming year. Plans under consideration at this session include almost the entire Dingee Park section and embrace not far short of seven miles of streets. To this will later be added the sections under consideration a few months ago, bringing the length of improvement to a total of but little short of 15 miles.

Another important matter, as concerning the sanitary condition of the city, was the final settlement of the question of the disposition of garbage. With this troublesome question out of the way, the Trustees are now in a position to enforce the recently adopted garbage ordinance, and it was announced that after the 1st of October every resident will be required to comply with its provisions. This will require that two receptacles be maintained at each residence—a covered one of metal for kitchen refuse, and another for ashes and other waste material—and that the contents of these must be hauled away at least once each week.

At the opening of the session, at which all of the Trustees except Hynding were present, a petition was presented asking that the Council consent to an alteration of the lines of Vera avenue so as to permit of a street of 60 feet in width instead of 80. As the petition offered no solution of the differences between the property owners it was placed on file.

A numerously signed petition asking for the construction of a lift or jacknife bridge over Redwood Creek from East Bradford (formerly C) street to Holder street was presented. On behalf of the petitioners it was stated that the Tacoma Mill Co. would donate all the lumber necessary for the bridge and that the land for approaches would be given free of cost. As no accurate estimate of the cost could be given, the petitioners were requested to secure these figures, and Chairman Merrill volunteered to interview Colonel Biddle as to the requirements of the Government.

An application for a liquor license at the Tremont House was presented by George Donnelly. The petition was referred to the committee on public health and morals.

On recommendation of the fire committee, the contract for furnishing 400 feet of hose was awarded to the Western Belting & Hose Co. at 80 cents per foot.

The United Gas & Electric Company was granted permission to erect a pole line on Walnut street between Stambaugh and Holder.

The offer of G. J. Liguori to dispose of the garbage of the city, submitted at the last meeting, was accepted, no other proposals being offered. Mr. Liguori was ready to make a contract for five years, but the Trustees considered best to limit the experimental contract to a shorter term and instructed the City Attorney to prepare an agreement for one year.

Street Superinteut Dickey was given authority to make such repairs to the tanks on the water tower as will insure their safety until the new reservoir is ready for use.

City Attorney Mansfield was appointed as a delegate to attend the California Municipal League convention at Santa Cruz, Sept. 21 to 24th.

Superintendent Dickey was instructed to replank two bridges, the one at Redwood avenue and county road, and the other one on Jefferson avenue near Davis street.

Ordinance No. 82, fixing the apportionment of city funds for the fiscal year, and a resolution fixing the rate of city taxes were adopted. The rates are those determined at the last meeting.

The heavy business of the session was presented by Attorney Hall C. Ross, the legal representative of Baldwin & Howell, managers of the Dingee Park property, and the Trustees settled down to the long task of considering the details of street work. The legal

While Congressman Hayes is at home with his constituents would it not be a good idea to again call his attention to the necessity for the improvement of Redwood Creek. This is a matter of extreme importance to the business interests of Redwood City and this entire section, and we should not lag in our efforts until definite results have been secured.

MERRY TIME IS INTERRUPTED

Happy Bride-to-be Overlooks Important Little Formality.

Accompanied by a party of relatives and friends Miss Wanda Smithers, a pretty Fulton girl, came to the office of County Clerk Fred Wright on Saturday. Leonard Morrell was also a member of the party and an important one, too.

Miss Smithers and Mr. Morrell came to town to get a marriage license. Everything went smoothly and there was an exchange of good-natured repartee and merry laughter until it came to the inquiry as to the age of the bride-to-be. Then the scene was changed. On account of the fact that the young lady was under age, it was necessary that she have the consent of her parents or guardian. She had neither. Then a halt was called in the license issuing proceedings. Without the consent the license could not be issued. The girl protested that she would be eighteen in just two months. But this could not avail anything. There was nothing to do but get that "yes".

A hurried trip was made to Fulton and the bride's mother willingly gave the required permission. The signed paper was hurriedly returned to the Clerk's office, and then the license was issued and the smile came again. The wedding party immediately repaired to Superior Judge Emmet Seawell's courtroom where the nuptial knot was tied by the judge The three sisters of the bride were her attendants.—Santa Rosa Republican.

Mr. Morrell was raised in Redwood City and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Morrell. Since leaving school he has worked in Woodside and Menlo Park until two years ago when he went to reside at Santa Rosa.

County Assessment Sustained.

County Assessor C. D. Hayward is to be congratulated upon the thorough manner in which he attends to the assessment of the various properties of San Mateo County. Notwithstanding the numerous subdivisions which are constantly being made Mr. Hayward keeps such a close watch on affairs that he can speak authoritatively about any piece of land in the county. When called before the State Board of Equalization in San Francisco recently he satisfied the Board that all property was assessed justly and equitably. Twenty-one of the Counties of the State however were not able to make such a good showing and the taxes of these were raised from 10 to 100 per cent. In meeting the objection of Los Angeles County which was raised 40 per cent reference was made by the State Board to the different maximum values put upon suburban properties and cited San Mateo County as the one which put the assessment where it belonged. Whereas the maximum assessment on acreage in Los Angeles is around the $400 mark, San Mateo has numerous assessments at $2000 an acre. The Board thought that property valuation should be as great in Los Angeles as it is in this County. The fact that this County was the one mentioned as the one where assessments are right and fair speaks volumes for Mr. Hayward than whom there is no more competent official nor courteous gentleman in the State of California.

details, as prepaired by Mr. Ross, were passed without question, but the specifications as prepared by the engineer were given careful scrutiny with a view to providing the best character of work at a minimum of cost. The report of engineer Neuman was a voluminous document, covering every detail and presenting an estimate of the cost to be assessed to each lot owner. After the reports had been carefully gone over, resolutions approving the plans, declaring the intention of the Board to order the work done and fixing Monday, October 18th, as the date of final hearing were adopted. The section is divided into two districts and the work includes the building of sewers, macadamizing of streets and the laying of concrete sidewalks, curbs and gutters, the estimated cost of which is $107,875.

WIFE CONSENTS TO DIVORCE

Mrs. Princevale Made No Effort to Contradict Charges of Husband.

With their property rights settled out of Court, Philip T. Princevalle, a commercial traveler, and his wife, Ada L. Princevalle, had nothing to fight for late yesterday afternoon, when the divorce case came up for trial before Superior Judge Shields, so without difficulty Princevalle obtained an interlocutory decree on the ground of extreme cruelty after reciting the story of marital woes as published in The Bee several weeks ago when the complaint was filed with the County Clerk.

Princevalle was not obliged to rally forth every detail in his wife's history, because she was not there to contest the case. She was represented by her attorney.

The witness told Judge Shields that Mrs. Princevalle was a heavy drinker and very often when he came home from business trips he found the house littered withr empty wine, whisky and beer bottles.

He recited briefly how he came home one night and caught John Huey in a barrel in the back yard after his wife's affinity had fled in scant attire upon hearing his steps on the front poarch. It was quite common, said the witness, to come home and find that other men were either in his wife's company or had been there before him.

She also cursed him and frequent ly struck him, Princevalle declared. She was an untidy housekeeper, allowing dirty clothes to accumulate an seldom washed the dishes.

In settling the property affairs Princevalle is said to have taken the house and piano, while Mrs. Princevalle was permitted to keep the furniture.—Sacramento Bee.

The Princevalles were married in Redwood City several years ago while Mr. Princevalle was in the confectionery business here. He was the Call agent for several years.

ANNOUNCEMENT

We are pleased to announce that the "IMPERIAL PAPER MILL COMPANY," of Soquel, Santa Cruz County, Cal., has been incorporated under the laws of the State of California for the purpose of tkaing over and operating the South Coast Paper Mill of Soquel. The South Coast Paper Mill is now being operated under a Joint Partnership by J. C. W. Stanley and Greely Kolts, but in order to enable an extension of the present business it has been deemed advisable to convert the former partnership into a regular Incorporated Company so as to permit the installation of new machinery which will increase the capacity of the mill from 30 to 90 tons of Paper per week. At present it is impossible to accept more than 20 per cent of the orders tendered us for paper owing to the fact that the plant is limited to 30 tons per week.

We are therefore anxious to install sufficient new equipment at once so as to increase the weekly tonage to 90 tons, as well as enable us to turn out a higher grade product than is now possible with the present mill. Hereafter the Company will manufacture a general line of Building Paper, Box-Board, Fruit Wrappers, Felting Paper, Wrapping and Special Papers.

The new company which has been organized to take over the business of the former company is capitalized at $125,000, divided into 2,000 shares of 10 per cent Cumulative Preferred Stock at $50 per share, and 500 shares of Common Stock at $50 per share. In order to provide for the necessary improvements and enlargements of the mill we now offer for Subscription the first issue of 1,000 shares of the 10 per cent Preferred Stock at $55 per share. Payments 25 per cent on application, balance 25 per cent per month until fully paid.

We are reasonably confident that the mill when improved and enlarged will pay conservatively from 20 to 30 per cent annual dividends, and we regard this as an exceptional opportunity to secure a high-class, dividend-paying stock in a going concern. The first issue of 1,000 Preference shares is offered at $55 per share, and the second issue, comprising all the remainder of the Preference shares of the Company at $60 per share.

In ordering stock kindly state whether in the event the first issue of 1,000 shares is over Subscribed on receipt of your application by the Company, you wish your Subscription returned or allowed on the second issue at $60 per share.

The following are the directors of the Company:

Greely Kolts, Director and Fiscal Agent British Canadian Wood Pulp and Paper Company, Ltd., Victoria, B. C.

F. A. Angel, General Merchant, Soquel, Cal.

Forbes Wood, formerly Manager Toronto Paper Company, Toronto, Canada; formerly General Superintendent California Box-Board and Paper Company, Antioch, Cal.

Doan's Kidney Pills will cure you.
Here is local evidence to prove it:

Matthew Hedge, 701 Arguello st., Redwood City, Cal., says: "From my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills, I know them to be a remedy that lives up to representations. I had pains in my left hip, descending at times into my thigh and the calf of my left leg. A soreness was also present across my kidneys, causing me great discomfort. I knew that my suffering was due to sciatic rheumatism caused by my kidneys failing to remove the uric poison from my system. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills as a fine remedy for kidney trouble and I accordingly procured a box at P. A. Ryan's drug store. I used this remedy according to directions and in view of the benefit I recieved, I have great faith in it."
